NABBY.

MR. NABBY HES HIM TO THE CROSS ROADS TO SAVE HIS PEOPLE FROM WANDERING INTO FORBIDDEN PATHS.

CONFIDENTIAL X ROADS,
(Which is in the State of Kentucky.)
September 7, 1872.

I felt fearful that the Louisville Convention would play smash with our people at the Corners, and it was deemed the best thing to do was to get there immediately, and to stop water might be going wrong. The great and good Greeley was anxious I should go. "It would break my heart," said the good old man, "if Kentucky should go agin me, through my mistake. I love Kentucky. In a long and busy life of fifty years, I was born in Kentucky, and on returning to my native State."

Here I stopped him. Since his trip up in Noe Hampshire, the good old man has fallen into the habit of being born in every State he happens to be in.

Things wuz a little peckooler at the Corners. The niggers and the Northern settlers all took the Tribune, and the nomenclature of Greeley had unsettled em. They wanted to vote for the old man, and I took mighty good pains to fix things for em. I ashore'd em that we had experienced a change of heart—that the era of good feeling wuz now about to be ignored, and that the nomenclature of Greeley wuz a barrier to the hatchet. Joe Bigler protested to be satisfied, and I felt that I had em. Hez my anxiety for the Louisville Convention might unsettle our people and lead em to do suchin' which would destroy my arrangements.

I packed my valises and started. I arrived in Louisville in due time and on the cars for Secessionville (which is the nearest station to the Corners) I met Kernal McPelter. I wuz glad to see the Kernal. He wuz from my home, and his face brought to my mind a thousand pleasant recollections, and beside my flask had been empty four hours, and hiszen had been freshly filled. The Kernal confirmed all I had feared. The Democracy of the Corners had taken the Louisville Convention to be the actual genuine simonpure Democratic Convention, had repudiated Greeley, and was to have a mass convenshun to ratify O'Connor and Adams that afternoon. Ez he concluded his statement the ears glode into Secessionville and we got off.

"What is the hour of the meetin' for the convenshun?" askt I.

"Two," sed he.

"Good Heaven," sed I, looking at my watch, which I borrowed of an enthusiastic man, who persisted in going to sleep on our grounds in Chappaqua—I borrowed it of him without saying anything to him about it—"It's 1 o'clock now, and there's but one mule to ride."

There was no help for it. I had to be there to stop this looney, and so the Kernal and me both mounted the mule, and put out for the Corners. It wuz seven miles and a hot day. We both had clubs, and we persuaded the mule to trot. One mile was accomplished in eight minutes, and the gallant animal showed no signs of fatigue. Ef she at any time turned aside to crop the herbage, by the wayside, a belt over her head with our clubs warned her that life wuz not a mere tottering by the wayside, but something in earnest. Eight minutes more and we wuz but five miles away. I eood hear the roar of the multitudes at the Corners. Eight minutes more, and from the top of Boregard's Hill, four miles away, I eood distinctly see the masses on the square. Eight minutes and we were within three miles, and the mule wuz fresh, but we were exhausted with poundin' her. The only question wuz eood we hold out? My classic features were bathed in perspiration, and every muscle in my body aaked with exertion. I eood hear the howls of the multitudes distinctly hulin' for O'Connor.

and that nerved my arm for another whack. The mule gave one convulsive start, and then, with the obstinacy of her race, stood stock still and wouldn't budge an inch. This wuz agony! I eood see em, movin' in procession with an effigy of the sainted Greeley, wich in their ignorance they wuz about to hang, and there wuz I, who alone eood stop em, stranded two miles away on a baulky mule.

"What kin we do?" I askt McPelter, in agony. "I must be there within ten minnts."

Then the greatniss of McPelter's machoer shone forth. Then the man of resource appeared and the patriot likewise.

"Ef the mule kicks, I'm a gonor," sed he, "but you must go. Toll my wife how I died," and he slipped off behind.

The devoted man's purpose wuz apparent.

"Hold stiddy to your seat!" sed he. "There's only one way to move her."

Then sezin the tale of the mule he gave it one vishus twist.

There wuz a flash of heels, and I saw, ez the mule started off on a run poor McPelter lit on his head a distance of at least a rod from where he stood. I held my seat, and in ten minnts wuz in the square, in front of Bascom's.

Wat a site met my eyes! There wuz Deekin Pogram boarin an effigy of Greeley, Bascom, Isaker Gavitt, and young Pennibacker held all the Greeley campaign banners and sich, and the entire Corners wuz marchin in procession to a bonfire in wich they proposed to burn all this paraphernalia amid wild shouts of "Bah for O'Connor!" They posed the old and ancient Democracy had riz and asserted herself and their Democratic instincts his likewise.

The procession happenin to notis a nigger or two, wich curiosity had attracted to the show, it went for em and the work of weeks wuz undun in a minit. "Huzil uv meatin them niggers ez men and bretherin, they knokt down two uv em and hed em strung up to a tree. I rushed into the throng ez a strong ship buffets the waves. I cleaved my way through the excited crowd and cut that nigger down.

"Go back!" I yelled in a voice of authority. "Deekin Pogram his effigy uv the good and great Greeley up and saloot it. Bascom unfasten them banners with the sainted name of Greeley and Brown, and chuck in that fire the O'Connor banner wich now insults the free air of Kentucky. You hev been misled. O'Connor is not the Democratic candidate, but Greeley is. Now ery man uv yoo. Three cheers for Morris Greeley!"

For the first time in my life my words availed me nothin at the Corners. Bascom remarked that he hed hurrahed for H. Greeley just ez long ez he proposed to, and Deekin Pogram swore hedn't hed a nite's sleep since he acted at the Greeley ratification meetin, and he hed hed jez ez much uv it ez he wanted in hizen, and brushin me one side they reformed in procession, and wuz agoin on to consummate their purpose.

"Men and bretherin," I shrieked "ye know not wat yoo doo. Morris Greeley is—"

"Is wat?" askt Bascom. "Is he a Dimocrar? will he pay the Confoprit debt uv wich I hold three bushels? will he pay for the horses the Fedrals stole? will he pay for the niggers Linkin robbed us uv? will he—"

I determined to play my trump, wich wuz to ashore'em that Morris wuz all that they wanted him to be and wud do all they wanted him to do, when just ez I hed got out the words "Morris Greeley is—" this cuss Joe Bigler and Pollock hove in site with every nigger in the Corners, includin all uv them wich I hed bin workin with before I went to Chappaqua, to convince em that Morris wuz the same old Abolishmist he alluz wuz, and that it wuz the Democracy wich hed changed.

"Wat is Morris Greeley?" askt Joe with a hellish leer on his face. "Me and my friends hev want to know. Go on, Parson, go on." I eoodent go on and he knowd it. Ef I satisfied my friends, I wuz certin to mortally offend hiszen, and vice verry. It wuz death in any event, and so after abusin Grant for appointin all his relatives to offfis, I managed to get the meetin adjourned, and the people dispersed.

Our folks refuse to support Greeley at any price, and Pollock and Bigler hev got the niggers and the Northern settlers in a solid body for Grant. Ez the Democratic vote will be divided, it wuddent be at all singlar ef they shoed carry the Corners. And then, even ef we elect Greeley, wich wat kind uv face kin I ask for the Post Office? Troubles is comin thick about me. It is a terrible thing to hev to carry an Abolitionist, even ef he is deciderized, in sich a community ez ours. Wud, oh wud, that I wuz a Republican, so that one story wud do for all localities and attinces.

Peterolom V. Nassy, (Wich wuz Postmaster and hopes to be agin.)

General Grant's Magnanimity.

Gen. Stephen A. Hurlbut, in his great speech at Springfield, Ill., turned aside for a moment, from the main line of his argument, to narrate the following: "I will tell you one or two things about Gen. Grant that are worth knowin. I will show you something of his character. You know, all of you, that when the battle of Pittsburg Landing occurred, Gen. Grant was charged by all the newspapers, and by nearly the whole country, if I may so speak, with gross neglect of duty in not being there when the battle commenced. Now I happen to know something of that battle myself. My own division was the first troops that were landed, and we held it; and I know the ground, I believe, better than anybody else. As a matter of fact, Gen. Grant has lain still during all this time under the obloquy which has been heaped upon him, and which probable will be again, of going down to Savannah on the Saturday night previous, and not returning until the battle was over. I know that he sent an officer out on Saturday night to inquire whether or not there was anything showing along the front, that he wanted to go down to hurry up Buell's troops from Savannah, and he got the report that a reconnaissance was made by the cavalry, and there was no sight of the enemy. Now, we know that the enemy lay there within two miles of us, but Gen. Grant, rather than bring that trouble on a friend and a brother officer, never published this, nor has it been published by anybody else. Look at another thing, which shows the magnanimity of his character. When he undertook the feat at Vicksburg, Gen. Sherman sent a written protest against the movement upon the ground that it was dangerous and impracticable, and would probably cost him his whole army. Gen. Grant never headed that. He went on, executed the movement, and when the success of it was demonstrated, he sent William T. Sherman his original protest back again, and would not keep it on his minutes, and William T. Sherman was not to be outdone in that sort of thing, and he published the paper to all the world as a vindication of Gen. Grant's claim to be a consummate soldier of divishion, at the expense of William T. Sherman."

SOMETHING ABOUT YOURSELF.

Supposing your age to be fifteen years or thereabouts, I figure you to a dot. You have 160 bones, and 500 muscles; your blood weighs 25 pounds; your heart is five inches in length and three inches in diameter; it beats 70 times per minute; 4,200 times per hour, 100,800 times per day, and 36,622,200 times per year. At each beat a little over two ounces of blood is thrown out of it; and each day it receives and discharges about seven tons of that wonderful fluid. Your lungs will contain a gallon of air and you inhale 24,000 gallons per day. The aggregate surface of the air cells of your lungs, supposing them to be spread out, exceeds 20,000 square inches. The weight of your brain is three pounds, when you are a man it will weigh about eight ounces more. Your nerves exceed 10,000,000 in number.

Your skin is composed of three layers from one-fourth to one-eighth of an inch in thickness. The area of your skin is about 1,700 square inches, and you are subjected to an atmospheric pressure of fifteen pounds to the square inch. Each square inch of your skin contains 3500 sweating tubes, or perspiratory pores, each of which may be likened to a little drain-pipe one-fourth of an inch long, making an aggregate length in the entire surface of your body, of 201,165 feet, or a tile ditch for draining the body almost forty miles long.

LIEUT. GOV. P. R. S. PINCHBACK.

This gentleman, one of the foremost colored men of the South, will undoubtedly be elected to represent the State of Louisiana as Congressman at large. Governor Pinchback is a fearless, outspoken Republican, and agreeable gentleman, and has had an experience in political affairs second to no colored man in the South; and we are glad to know that the difficulties among Republicans in Louisiana have been so composed as to give us as a representative in Congress a man with the ability of Mr. Pinchback. We have no doubt that he will reflect credit upon his race and the people who elect him.—New National Era

Mark Twain on Raising Poultry.

There are two ways of raising fowls, both very simple, one for warm weather and one for Winter. In the first case, you start with a friend along about 11 o'clock on a Summer's night, not later, because in some States—especially in California and Oregon—chickens always rouse up just at midnight and crow from ten to thirty minutes according to the case or difficulty they experience in getting the public waked up, and your friend carries with him a sack. Arrived at the hen-roost (your neighbor's not your own), you light a match and hold it under first one and the other pullet's nose, until they are willing to go into that bag without making any trouble about it. You then return home, either taking the bag with you or leaving it behind, according as circumstances shall dictate. N. B. I have seen the time when it was eligible and appropriate to leave the sack behind and walk off with considerable velocity without ever leaving any directions where to send it. In the case of the other method mentioned for raising poultry, your friend takes along a covered vessel a charcoal fire in it, and you carry a long slender plank. This is a frosty night understand. Arrived at the tree, or fence, or other hen-roost (your own, if you are an idiot), you warm the end of your plank in your friend's fire vessel and then raise it aloft and ease it up gently against a slumbering chicken's foot. If the subject of your attention is a true bird he will infallibly return thanks with a sleepy cluck or two, and stop out and take quarters on the plank, thus becoming so conspicuous, accessory before the fact to his own marker as to make it a grave question in our minds, as it once was in the mind of Blackstone, whether he is not really and deliberately committing suicide in the second degree. (But you enter into a contemplation of these legal refinements—subsequently—not then.) When you wish to raise a fine, large, donkey-voiced Sumpter rooster you do it with a sack, just as you would a bill. It is because he must be choked, and choked effectually, too. It is the only good, certain way, for whenever he mentions a matter which he is cordially interested in, the chances are ninety-nine in a hundred that he leaves somebody else's attention, too, whether it be night or day.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

FOR CORONER.

We are authorized to announce as
THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE for Coroner of the Second and Third Districts, Parish of Orleans,

Louis P. Pigeaux,
Subject to the ratification of the Republican Party of Louisiana.

We were agreeably surprised on Thursday night, to hear the familiar voice of our "familiar friend" H. A. CORNELL, Esq., who had just arrived on the Jackson train from his trip and a visit to his friends in Cincinnati.

The most recent information of the condition of Hon. W. Jasper Blackburn, who was shot some days ago after speaking with the Kellogg party at Minden, La., is that he is not yet out of danger. We hope our able cotemporary will even survive this last attack on his life, because he dared to utter the honest sentiments of his heart.

A recent copy of the Pittsburgh Weekly Dispatch contains the obituary notice of Major Henry Beare, who died in Pittsburg, Pa., on Aug. 29 last, in the eightieth year, of his age. The veteran gentleman served with distinction in the war of 1812, and for wounds received during service was pensioned by the government. The Major was the father of our late State Senator, Hon. James Beare, and also of our popular fellow-citizen George Beare, Esq.

MORE CONVENTIONS.

"Not many days hence" this city and parish will be all astir with parish nominating Conventions.
There are now calls for no less than three different party Conventions to put in nomination three different candidates for each respective office. It is of the utmost importance that caution and circumspection should distinguish the action of the Republican Convention, inasmuch as beyond all doubt the best and most available men will be brought to the front. Through the narrow-mindedness, greed, and illiberality of our political adversaries who fancy they are masters of the situation, little can be hoped for in the way of compromise, and some doubt and uncertainty may follow us to the ballot-box. Having then "no part nor lot" in the counsels, the proposals, nor the successes of such men, we are interested only in knowing the best and the surest way to save this city and parish to the Republican Party, which is really the only party that will and that can administer the affairs of the municipality and parish, for the best interests of the whole people.
But our party with its prestige and its qualifications must itself avoid splitting on the rock which has hitherto invariably foundered the Democratic ship.

Our convention must direct its attention towards nominating for judges of the various District Courts men who are not only legally qualified to fill the places, but who also command the respect and the confidence of the bulk of those on whose votes their election depends.
For Mayor and Administrators similar painstaking is absolute necessary. The labors, and the responsibilities of the Administrators of the City affairs have vastly increased and the expansion of the City, the improvements going on, and the constant demand for the display of integrity, industry, and sagacity, demand that our best men should be selected to fill these places. Herculean efforts will be made to obtain control of the City government by the Democracy, and nothing but similar labor on our part can defeat the machinations and the combinations against us. What is true of the principal offices, is also true of the secondary and lesser positions.
The Republican party being a unit will find its labors considerably less embarrassed in this work than in its labors in the State affairs, and if it set up to the suggestions and demands of the occasion by a just recognition of the claims, and the qualifications of the representatives of the various elements composing the voters of the Parish of Orleans we entertain no doubt that success will crown our efforts in November.

The Donaldsonville Chief is extraordinarily versatile and jubilant over the winner of the "fastest race on record." This event according to the Chief has settled the question; hear it:

"The salvation of Louisiana is due to but one man, and that man the most talented, able and worst abused in the State—Henry Clay Warmoth. His indomitable energy, keen perception and wonderful executive ability have freed us from the yoke of Grantism, and if his wonderful trip from New York to New Orleans in the unprecedented time of 62 hours, by which he triumphed over the enemies of himself and Louisiana, has not excited the admiration of even his worst defamers, and the gratitude of the opponents of Grant and Kellogg, then are we greatly mistaken."

Now friend Bentley are you not just a trifle in advance of events?
Are you "freed from the yoke of Grantism," which in reality means the overthrow of Republicanism and the ascendancy of Democracy?
Are you not too enthusiastic in this anticipation? We can abide your making the most of whatever there is in Governor Warmoth and the railroad men in collusion, outraging personal liberty and unlawfully imprisoning a rider on their cars. You can chuckle over the sagacity and all that sort of thing, and roar and clap hands over the joke of the season, and we can take "a little of it ours," but we must demur to your rejoicing under any circumstances at the prospect of Democratic success.

Nast is inimitable. His latest cartoons are intensely satirical. See Harpers Weekly.

MORE HARMONY.

That the Republican party of Louisiana could not elect a single candidate with a division in its ranks, was a fact so plain and so patent that as long as two State tickets remained in the field, no one was visionary enough to look forward to anything but certain defeat in November. It was the attachment to Republican doctrines and the power of this impression that dictated the conferences of the two Republican committees, the compromise on the two State tickets, and the agreement to have one ticket, the consolidation of the two State Central and Parish Committees, and indeed the inauguration of all the measures calculated to secure one party, one set of leaders, and one set of nominees.

In this noble and patriotic work the party leaders have steadily proceeded, and completed on Monday last their last changes. These are in the selection of one Congressman from each of those districts in which two had been nominated. Our State ticket as corrected to-day presents the candidates as selected by the State Central Committee and recommended by them to the support of the Republicans of Louisiana.

It is but just we should say that the majority of the candidates confided their fate to the ballot of the Committee. The only exception to the above rules being Senator Butler, of Plaquemine, who in the interest of harmony and with characteristic magnanimity declined his nomination in favor of J. Hale Sypher.

Acquiescence in the work of the Committee in the cases they dealt with will be believed to be soon secured.

CAMPAIGN PARTY.

On Monday afternoon the steamboat Fraser, chartered for the purpose, left this city, having on board Lieutenant Governor P. B. S.
Pinchback, Hon. S. B. Packard, Harry Lott, W. B. Phillips, C. W.
Lowell, W. B. Barrett, T. De S.
Tucker, J. Henri Burch and others, on a canvassing tour through a number of the river-side parishes.
An abundant supply of the good things of this life, some wine that "cheers," a fine band and cheerful companions will doubtless enable these gentlemen to while away the time as they are temporarily imprisoned, as they go from one point to another. When they land at any place and hold their meetings nothing but welcome and enthusiasm will be witnessed all around them.

Their first point has been reached and the telegraph has told us of the complete ovation they have received in Baton Rouge, while they have roused and inspirited their audience with the forcible eloquence which the speakers are gifted with.

On Wednesday the party arrived at Bayou Sara, having stopped en route at Waterloo. A mass meeting was immediately called and presided over by Mr. S. S. Henderson, "one of the largest planters in Pointe Coupee." Telegraphic news says:

"The people came flocking into town early in the morning from all quarters, and all in high, good spirits and almost boisterous in their enthusiasm for the Republican ticket in general, and Kellogg and Antoine in particular.

"Governor Pinchback was the first speaker to address the meeting, which he did in a telling and eloquent speech. He was followed by the Hon. J. R. G. Pitkin, who in turn gave way for the Hon. Harry Lott, Dr. Worrall, Judge Phillips and Mr. L. Weber also addressed the attentive audience, and were well received and much applauded.
After which the crowd became almost ferocious in its calls for another address from Governor Pinch-back, and did not go away until he had satisfied their demand by another fine speech."

The canvassing party left in the evening for Alexandria, where we will follow them in time.

Hon. H. M. TURNER, LL. D.—The Savannah Journal gives its readers the following pleasing information, which we cordially transcribe:

"Rev. H. M. Turner has been made an LL. D., by one of the leading Universities of Pennsylvania, as a testimonial to the ability and eloquence he has displayed in defending his race since the commencement of the late war. This is a high compliment and one that has seldom been paid in this country to a colored man."

AUDITOR GRAHAM vs. LAW AND COURTESY.

We always had a natural sympathy with the oppressed and the persecuted, we therefore, feel extremely sorry for the law and the courts, that Mr. Graham is determined, if necessary, to "rot in jail" to defy and defeat. There were times in human history when persecutors of the innocent, and the slayers of the spotless were canonized, and the idea some how struck us that the Auditor's re-election would be equivalent to sainthood, and hence his alacrity to pander to momentary Democratic clamor, and contemn law, judges and courts.
Constituting himself, not only a ministerial State officer, but the reviser and register of judicial decisions and the impudent censor of the legislative departments of the government. Poor Legislature!!
Poor Law!! and Poor Courts!!!
Judge Cooley essayed to vindicate the injured honor of his Court and a telegraphic pardon from a Governor a thousand miles from the State set the Auditor free. Judge Dibble's notions of propriety dictate to him to deny the Governor's right to pardon such contempt and to send the Auditor to jail again, with these instructions:

"It is ordered that the respondent, James Graham, be remanded into the custody of the Sheriff, who is instructed to imprison him in the Parish Jail and there to hold him under the commitment made in this case by the Hon. W. H. Cooley, presiding in this Court, Sep. 13, 1872.
The Sheriff will so hold the respondent until the further order of this Court, unless directed to release him by the Supreme Court of the State."

How far this "rotting in jail" is going, or how summary and violent may be the conflict between the Executive and the Judiciary departments of the Government it is impossible to say. Yesterday's papers teem with appeals to Democratic sympathy to sustain the Auditor in his crusade. Of course they do.
Have they not been all along denouncing the law-makers, and is it not perfectly consistent for them to denounce and repudiate the binding force of the laws?

COMPLIMENTARY.

The nomination of Hon. J. Henri Burch for the State Senate is a most fitting acknowledgment of the merits of that able representative colored man. As we fought against Mr. Burch while he and ourselves followed opposing leaders, following one standard to-day, and striving for a common victory, hereafter shall our voice and pen be raised to do battle for him. The bitterness with which we assailed him when he was the champion of a faction, shall be compensated by the zeal with which we will advocate his claims, as the standard-bearer of a united party.

The above we clip from the Iberville News, and in return will say to "Charley" and "George" that we will willingly clasp hands across the inky chasm, forget the bickerings and misunderstandings of the past, and now that the future is so bright we propose to go hand in hand with our contemporaries in their resolves.

The above is from the Grand Era of September 21st, and the friendliness breathing all through the "compliment" and the acknowledgment of it makes us feel good, and as we think we know friend "Burch," and "Charley," and "George," well enough to offer to make four in the game, suppose we play partners.
Joking apart, we are sincerely glad of the cessation of partisan "bickerings and misunderstandings," and no course suits us better than going "hand in hand" to struggle and to triumph.

CHANGE OF BASE.—We copy the following item from a recent copy of the Lafourche Times. Mr. John P. Hartman, one of the proprietors, withdraws from the editorship, and his place is supplied by Mr. M.
Keith:

"Our readers will perceive that the LAFOURCHE TIMES places the National Republican and State ticket up as its preference in place of the Liberal ticket, State and National.

The reason of this change is in the fact that the senior Proprietor has allowed his columns to be open to the Republicans of the parish and they have never allowed themselves to be drawn out of the National Republican party. And as there is no longer a Liberal ticket for the State the senior proprietor declines to have any thing further to do with the advocacy of doctrines which are a shame to themselves. Mr. John P.
Hartman is therefore no longer responsible for any article which may appear in the Editorial columns of this paper which will run in the interest of the republican party, state and National.

IBERVILLE.

ENTHUSIASTIC MASS MEETINGS.

The town of Plaquemine was all alive on Saturday last with busy preparations for a Republican mass meeting in the Court House in the evening, under the auspices of those "war horses" C. E. Halstead, P. G.
Deslonde, and Geo. B. Loud. The news that the services of the United States Band had been secured by Mr. Halstead and would be in attendance infused additional enthusiasm in the people, and early in the day couriers were on the road to "see" if they were coming, but no sign was visible. At 11 o'clock however the sound of music came floating "sweetly down the river," and an indiscriminate rush was immediately made for the river bank.
Sure enough there was a steam tug approaching with the "boys in blue." The landing of the boat and the de-barcation of the passengers were soon performed. In addition to the musicians were Lieutenant Payne, U. S. A. and a number of other gentlemen from Baton Rouge who feeling interested came down to see what was going on.

A line of march was soon formed and the party started for the residence of Messrs. Halstead and Loud, inspired on the way by "music by the Band," attracting crowds to the procession, and peering heads out of all the windows along the route.

From this time to evening the neighborhood of their location was literally thronged by listeners to the sweet notes they sent out occasionally. In the meantime there were hourly arrivals from various parts of the parish with the cheering intelligence of numbers preparing to "come to town" by night.

As the "evening shades" prevailed it was evident that the population had been largely increased, and the neighborhood of the Courthouse presented a lively appearance. A number of tables were placed in the court yard, and preparations to dispense cake and cream and the multitude of et ceteras that are in demand at public gatherings, were actively going on. When the hour of meeting arrived, the Courthouse was literally packed, and still hosts were outside. Interest and enthusiasm were on tiptoe. We had the gratification of being present on the occasion, and took our notes of the speakers and their subjects, but by one of those teasing accidents, they are "among the missing" and our memory protests against any tax, to supply the loss. The meeting was called to order by C. E. Halstead, Esq., who briefly stated its objects. Temporary and permanent organizations were soon effected, with Hon.
P. G. Deslonde, for President, and Geo. Loud, Esq., Secretary.

The first Speaker was Wm. G.
Brown, the Republican candidate for Superintendent of Education.
But what he said and how he said it, "we ain't a going to tell." Then followed W. B. Barrett who entertained his audience for over an hour with a good, honest intellectual speech, during the delivery of which he was repeatedly interrupted with cheers.

H. Williams Esq., of Baton Rouge then delivered a telling address.
Several other gentlemen whose names we regret to have forgotten, spoke at great length, and with evident effect. Nothing occurred to mar the good feeling between the Republicans, while every indication points to Republican harmony and promises success in the pending struggle. The meeting continued till about 11 p. m. when it dispersed amid great enthusiasm, and after cheering Grant, Wilson, and the State Ticket.

There have been discovered within a short time near Rio Vista, California, a number of bones of an animal of immense size. The portions in the best state of preservation were the teeth, one of which weighs ten and one-half pounds.
The grinding surface is ten inches in length and four inches wide, the teeth measuring 30 inches in circumference at this part, and seven at the point where it is broken from the jaw. The length from grinding surface to the break of the prong is ten inches. The neck bone, one of the vertebrae, is twenty four inches in circumference. The remains were found in adobe formation underneath a stratum of rock four feet thick. The nature of the overlying rock is not stated.—Er.

CORRESPONDENCE.

DEAR EDITOR LOUISIANIAN.—I was made to rejoice in reading in your issue of the 14th ult., under the head of "Cane Presentation," the name of my devoted friend and pastor, Rev. Geo. E. Dardis, which one was presented him as a token of "friendship and admiration." I have found in Rev. Geo. Dardis a true, constant and sincere friend, tried and proven. I can say with confidence, from what I have seen in him that he is worthy of the present and its tokens. I am happy to congratulate my worthy christian friend, and Sister Fredonia Gantt, as her presenting to our worthy Pastor "the cane" in behalf of the ladies of "Union Chapel." I am three joyous of the friendship existing between the church I so much love and its beloved Pastor, but one thing I am sorry about is that I was not present on the occasion. I have served under Brother Dardis in the Superintendency of Sunday School, Secretary, and Conductor of Sacred Music, but to say that a better minister to serve under is hard to find, is but faint praise. The "adversary" tried to make me say otherwise, but I know him by his "cloven foot," and thus I was not beguiled.

Long live Rev. Dardis, family and flock.

ARMISTIDE P. ALBERT, Cave Springs, Ga., Sept. 19, 1872.

PRETTY WOMEN.

After all, is the world so very absurd in its love of pretty women?
Is woman so very ridiculous in her chase after beauty? Her aim from very childhood is to be beautiful.
Even as a school girl she notes the progress of her charms, the deepening color of her hair, the growing symmetry of her arm, the ripening contour of her cheek. We watch with silent interest, the mysterious revelries of the maiden; she is dreaming of a coming beauty, and panting for the glories of eighteen. Insensibly, she becomes an artist, her room is a studio, her class an academy. The joy of her toilet is the joy of Raphael over his canvas, of Michael Angelo over his marble.
She is creating beauty in the silence and the loneliness of her chamber; she grows like any art creation, the result of patience, of hope, of a thousand delicate touchings and re-touchings. Woman is never perfect, never complete. A restless night undoes the beauty of the day; sunshine blurs the evanescent coloring of her cheek; frost nips the tender outline of her face into sudden harshness. Care plows its lines across the brow; motherhood destroys the elastic lightness of her form; the bloom of her cheek, the quick flash of her eye, fade and vanish as the years go by. But woman is still true to her ideal.
She won't know when she is beaten, and she manages to steal fresh victories even in her defeat. She invents new conceptions of womanly grace; she rallies at forty, and fronts us with the beauty of womanhood; she makes a last stand at sixty, with the beauty of age. She falls, like Caesar, wrapping her mantle round her, "buried in woolen" 'till a saint provoke!" Death listens pitifully to the longings of a life-time, and the wrinkled face smiles with something of the prettiness of eighteen.—Saturday Review.

SCRIPTURAL MOTTO.—The members of a certain Bible-class in Baltimore were recently studying St.
Paul's matchless rules for Christian living, in Romans xii. The question was asked by the superintendent:

"What motto is to be adopted when strangers are to be entertained?"

The correct answer, of course, is,
"Given to hospitality;" but one young lady held the opinion that it should be "Patient in tribulation."

Magazine for October.

State Central Committee

ITS RE-ORGANIZATION.

Rooms State Central Executive Committee, Republican Party of Louisiana,
New Orleans, Sept. 18, 1872.

Furnish to resolutions the two committees, presided over respectively by B. S. Pinchback, and Hon. S. B. Packard, met this day for the purpose of forming consolidation, a new State Central Executive Committee.

The officers of both committees resigned their respective positions, and new committees proceeded to organize the election of permanent officers.
Committee as now organized is as follows: President..... S. B. Packard.
First Vice President..... P. B. S. Pinchback.
Second Vice President..... John Ray.
Secretary..... T. W. De Kuyper.
Corresponding Sec'y..... W. E. Dardis.

R. P. Johnson, Geo. T. Baker, John Ray, Thomas Hill,
James F. Casey, C. F. Gaudin, C. W. Lowell, S. Martin, James H. Ingraham, F. W. Wall.

By special resolution, G. Canale, a member of the National Republican Executive Committee, was declared a member of the committee, ex officio.

On motion of Mr. Halstead, it was ordered that a Sub-Executive Committee shall be formed to consist of the First President, who shall be the chairman, and ten members appointed by the President of the State Committee.

On motion of Mr. Ingraham, it was ordered that a Finance Committee shall be formed to consist of seven members, appointed in like manner as the sub-committee, together with the treasurer, who shall be a member ex officio.

PROSPECTUS OF THE Louisianian.

In the endeavor to establish another Republican journal in New Orleans, the proprietors of the LOUISIANIAN, propose to fill a necessity which has been long, and sometimes painfully felt to exist. In the transition state of our people, in their struggling efforts to attain that position in the Body Politic, which we conceive to be their due, it is regarded that much information, guidance, encouragement, counsel and reproof have been lost, in consequence of the lack of a medium, through which these deficiencies might be supplied. We shall strive to make the LOUISIANIAN a desideratum in these respects.

POLICY.
As our motto indicates, the LOUISIANIAN shall be "Republican at all times and under all circumstances." We shall advocate the security and enjoyment of broad civil liberty, the absolute equality of all men before the law, and an impartial distribution of honor and patronage to all who merit them.

Desirous of allaying animosities, of obliterating the memory of the bitter past, of promoting harmony and union among all classes and between all in society, we shall advocate the removal of all political disabilities, foster kindness and forbearance, where malignity and resentment reigned, and seek for fairness and justice where wrong and oppression prevailed. Thus united in our aims and objects, we shall conserve our best interests, elevate our noble State, to an enviable position among her sister States, by the development of her limitless resources, and secure the full benefits of the mighty changes in the history and condition of the people and the Country.

Believing that there can be no true liberty without the supremacy of law, we shall urge a strict and undiscriminating administration of justice.

TAXATION.
We shall support the doctrine of an equitable division of taxation among all classes, a faithful collection of the revenues, economy in the expenditures, conformably with the exigencies of the State or Country and the discharge of every legitimate obligation.

EDUCATION.
We shall sustain the carrying out of the provisions of the act establishing our common school system, and urge as a paramount duty the education of our youth, as vitally connected with their own enlightenment, and the security and stability of a Republican Government.

FINAL.
By a generous, manly, independent, and judicious conduct, we shall strive to rescue our paper, from an ephemeral, and temporary existence, and establish it upon a basis, that if we cannot "command," we shall at all events "deserve" success.

WALTHAM WATCHES.
THE BALANCE WHEEL.
WALTHAM WATCH
BEATS
4 times a second,
240 times a minute, 14,400 times an hour, 345,600 times a day, 392,000 times a week, 10,368,000 times a month, 128,144,000 times a year.
MORE IS EXPECTED OF A WATCH
THAN ANY OTHER KIND
OF MACHINERY.
It must not only run all day, all night; not only on weekdays, but on Sundays and Holidays. It must run hanging up or lying down—upside down or right side up. It must keep running when the wearer sits down or stands up, when he walks or rides. In fact, it is expected to do its duty at all times, in every place and in every position.

A Genuine Waltham Watch
will fulfill all these requirements. I would at once a day, it will faithfully tick for you a hundred and twenty-six million times in a year, without even requiring fresh oil at all that time.
CONTAINS
5 Springs, 9 wheels, 51 Screws, and 98 other parts making altogether 136 separate pieces.
ALL GENUINE WALTHAM
Watches have seven Jewels.
THE EXTRA JEWELLED HAVE ELEVEN JEWEL. THE FULL JEWELLED HAVE FIFTEEN JEWELS.
Every part of a Waltham Watch is made by machinery. The machinery used in making the movement of a single watch costs over a Hundred Thousand Dollars, yet we sell these Watches, in a solid Silver Hunting Case, for $18. The same watch could not be made by hand and finished as perfectly for TEN TIMES AS MUCH.

A Genuine Waltham Watch
Is interchangeable, like a Springfield rifle that is, any part of one Watch is exactly like the same part in another; and if ten Watches of one grade were taken apart, and the screws, wheels, springs, &c., were mixed together, ten watches could be made by putting these parts together again, without any reference to their former combination. This is a GREAT ADVANTAGE;
For, if any part of a Waltham Watch is injured we can always replace it at a Trifling Expense.

Is made with special reference to DURABILITY
Other Watches will run for a year or two, an require constant repairs; but
A Waltham Watch
WILL RUN FAITHFULLY
FOR MANY YEARS.
We sell these Watches,
IN SOLID SILVER HUNTING
CASES.....$18
IN SOLID GOLD HUNTING CASES, $70 We have prepared an ILLUSTRATED PRICE LIST,
which describes the various grades of Watches in detail, gives the weight and quality of the Cases, and all other information necessary for an intelligent selection. We wish every one would send for it before ordering a Watch.

Write for it as follows: Messrs. Howard & Co.,
No. 785 Broadway,
New York.
Please send me your Illustrated Price List of Waltham Watches, as per advertisement in THE LOUISIANIAN.
(Sign name and address in full)
WITHOUT EXPENSE,
ON
Refund the Money.
We have sent out over One Thousand of these Watches upon these conditions, and have only been asked to refund the money in three cases, and not one of these was on account of dissatisfaction with the Watch, but because the parties needed the money more.

WE HAVE NO AGENTS, AND OUR PRICES ARE THE SAME TO ALL. A REMINDER OF OMBOR OR TEXAS CAN BUY A WATCH FROM US AND IT WILL COST HIM NO MORE THAN IF HE LIVED IN NEW YORK. ALL WHO IS EXCLUDED IN THIS PARTIAL LIST.
SPECIAL NOTICE.
WE DO NOT SELL
Waltham Watches in any imitation, Gilt, Plated, or Filled Cases whatever (these are all other names for Brass or German Silver). The Waltham Watch is worthy of a solid Gold or Silver Case, and we do not propose to sell it in any other.
